PERFUME

Perfumes contain alcohol, which could be chametz if derived from wheat. If the perfume is made with denatured alcohol, however, it can be used without concern.

Perfumes such as Kuumba Made are declared to be alcohol free. See also the Alcohol Free Fragrances section on Beauty Base (www.beautybase.com).

Only brands listed on www.passover.isitkosher.uk/#perfume have so far confirmed their source of alcohol. Other brands would be permitted, provided denatured alcohol is specified in the ingredients declaration on the bottle.
